Race and Sport in Canada: Intersecting Inequalities is the first anthology to explore intersections of race with the constructions of gender, sexuality, class, and ability within the context of Canadian sport settings. This article may rely excessively on sources too closely associated with the subject, potentially preventing the article from being verifiable and neutral. Waneek Horn-Miller is a Mohawk of Kahnawake. She was a member of the Canadian women's water polo team that won a gold medal at the 1999 Pan American Games in Winnipeg. Horn-Miller also became the first Mohawk woman from Canada to ever compete in the Olympic games. Chapter 5 of Budget 2018 highlights Canada's commitment to gender budgetting and introduces the new Gender Results Framework.
